General Kleene is an all-purpose product that is engineered specifically for use as a floor cleaner, but it is highly effective as a general-purpose and hard surface detergent for everyday cleansing of industrial environments. It is also formulated to be compatible with soak-tank cleaning operations of ferrous and non-ferrous metal components, including aluminum.

General Kleene may be deployed in cleaning operations utilizing all types of mechanized equipment, including his preferred conveyance: ride-on floor scrubbers.

Our success is based on your success ... and we wouldn't have it any other way!
